The Tests Start/End Time will indicate when you began and finished your test.

The Bloom Level Statistics will indicate what percentage of questions at a certain Bloom level you answered correctly for each of the 6 Bloom levels that might have appeared on that test.

- 1 - Knowledge: You can recall or recognize information and ideas in the approximate form in which they were presented.
- 2 - Comprehension: You can translate and understand information based on prior learning.
- 3 - Application: You can use previously learned principles to complete a problem or task.
- 4 - Analysis: You can draw connections among ideas as well as break information into parts by identifying motives or causes.
- 5 - Synthesis: You can combine previously learned concepts and ideas in a new way that was not presented to you.
- 6 - Evaluation: You can make a judgment based on specific standards and criteria.

The Reading Level Statistics will indicate the average reading grade level of the questions you answered correctly as well as the questions you answered incorrectly.

Example: a 9.5 would indicate a mid-ninth-grade reading level

The Cut Score Statistics will indicate the percentage of questions you answered correctly for each of the cut scores associated with questions that might have appeared on your test.

We use the Nedelsky method for determining the cut score of questions. This primarily looks at the number of reasonable distractors contained in the question that the average student may be tempted to select. The higher the cut score of the question, the lower the difficulty.

.90 Cut Score indicates the questions has one correct answer and no good distractors.

.60 Cut Score indicates a question with a correct answer, 1 good distractor, and 2 poor distractors.

.45 Cut Score indicates a question with 1 correct answer, 2 good distractors, and 1 poor distractor.

.36 Cut Score indicates a question with 1 correct answer and 3 good distractors. These are the REALLY tough questions.

1 Ipratropium is effective for the treatment of asthma because of which of the following actions?

☐ It dilates the alveoli.

☒ It relaxes the bronchial smooth muscle.

☐ It inhibits the build-up of fluid in the lungs.

☐ It removes excess fluid collecting in the lungs.

Annotation: Ipratropium relaxes bronchial smooth muscle, which results in bronchodilation via an increase in adenylyl cyclase within the cell. This is known as "direct" bronchodilation.

2 Hypoventilation from an injury or disease would BEST be defined as:

Upon completion you can view your results at the end of your test. Or you can go to the adaptive test page and click the view class summary button.

SUMMATIVE RESULTS

The Summative Results data (above) shows how well the test taker or student did on a single computer adaptive test. In this instance, a Good is when the student or test taker has met two out of the three benchmarks for success (percentile ranking, average score, highest difficulty). A percentile ranking of 99, means that the student has exceeded the greater than 51% required. The student or test taker has been asked 30 questions, has answered 26 questions correctly for an average score of 87%, well above the required 65% correct.

Note: Summative data compares against all curriculum levels and may be different from the other data indicators shown below it.

OVERALL INDICATION

The Ranks of Fail, Not Good, Good, and Exceptional, are based on surpassing the benchmark on 3 criteria: Percentile Ranking, Average Score, and Highest Difficulty.

A ranking of Fail means you were unable to surpass any of the benchmarks.

A ranking of Not Good means you were able to surpass one of the benchmarks.

A ranking of Good means you were able to surpass two of the benchmarks.

A ranking of Exceptional means you were able to surpass all three of the benchmarks.

PERCENTILE RANKING

This percentage represents where you are positioned within the schools in our system. For example, an overall percentile of 67 means you are in the top third of the system's test takers testing at that provider level in the modules selected for this test.

AVERAGE SCORE

This is the percentage of questions you answered correctly.

HIGHEST DIFFICULTY

This describes the most difficult questions you were exposed to during testing. A question with a difficulty of 0.0 would be one that no one ever misses and a difficulty of 0.96 would be an item that hardly anyone ever gets correct.

CURRICULUM BREAKDOWN:

This is a breakdown of how well you did in each area of the testing. Click any of the arrows for more detail. The objectives listed can be found in the Curriculum Handout (PDF) on the upper right of the page. The name of the button will reflect the Curriculum the test was taken in.

If you leave your results page you can always go back the view results button next to your completed test.
